2019 Combined Summer Undergraduate Research Opportunity

Ten Week Program - May 26 - August 2, 2019

Program Description
The University of Massachusetts Medical School (UMMS) Combined Summer Undergraduate Research Opportunity is a non-credit, ten-week, structured research experience. The program consists of "hands-on" laboratory research with an investigator serving as a mentor, role model and advisor. The Combined Summer Undergraduate Research Opportunity is funded by the National Institute of Health (NIH) and UMMS Provost’s Office.

Goals
The program is designed to provide participants in-depth exposure to actual biomedical research. Participants will develop career-building connections with faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and peers. The program encourages participants to consider biomedical research as a viable career choice.

Why should I apply?
- Intense research experience in state of the art laboratories
- Summer Research Fellows receive a stipend of $4000. Stipends are paid to participants in three payments over the ten-week program
- Travel and housing are paid for and arranged by the program
- Participants engage in networking sessions with UMMS leaders, faculty and trainees
- Participants prepare and present a professional research poster

The application deadline is March 15, 2019!
More information and application here.

CLEO, the Council on Legal Education Opportunity, Inc., is pleased to announce that we will award a $2500 CLEO EDGE Pre-Law Scholarship to 24 participants of the 2019 Pre-Law Summer Institute (PLSI). More information about the scholarship can be found here. For those college seniors interested in attending law school in fall 2019, CLEO’s Pre-Law Summer Institute prepares students for the rigors of the first year of law school. The application opens February 15 and closes March 30. Scholarship winners will be announced in mid-April.
We welcome and encourage prospective students to visit the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law. We understand that making the decision to attend law school is an important one so we would like to make the decision-making process easier by opening our doors and classrooms to allow you to explore our school and experience the collegial and collaborative community that makes Maryland unique! In order to take optimal advantage of a visit to the law school, we recommend that prospective students visit a class, take a tour of the school, or attend an Open House event. We also offer a number of online chat sessions and webcast throughout the year to allow you additional opportunities to hear from our faculty, staff and students and to discuss our programs in greater depth.
